For those of you that participated in the Double-Rider class at the MOWHA Fall Round-up, here is an update on the BuckeyeThon: member Athena Lowe extends her thanks to all who helped her exceed her fund raising goal. She was able to raise a total of $2,275, with proceeds from our double rider class, and proceeds from other activities with generous donors. The weekend of February 8, Athena danced and stayed on her feet from 7pm to 7am in support of children with cancer. BuckeyeThon is the largest student-run philanthropy in the state of Ohio with the ultimate goal of ending childhood cancer. They raise funds and awareness for the Hematology, Oncology and Bone Marrow Transplant unit of Nationwide Children's Hospital, a Columbus Children's Miracle Network Hospital. The monies raised can provide 1,000 research kits to help researchers extract and purify DNA, RNA, proteins and other cell components to help children get better. Thank you so much to double rider class riders, and Athena Lowe for your efforts and generosity to this life changing cause. The picture is Athena with one of BuckeyeThon kiddos painting her face.
